THE VOICE OF HIM I LOVE.

BY MRS. OPIE.

Hence, far from me, ye senseless joys!
That fade before ye reach the heart—
The crowded dome's distracted noise,
Where all is pomp and useless art!

Give me my home, to quiet dear,
Where hours untold and peaceful move,
So fate ordain I sometimes there
May hear the voice of him I love.

I hate e'en music's pleasing power,
When giddy crowds my tones attend;
But love to sing at evening's hour,
To soothe the sorrows of a friend.

I love to breathe the plaintive lays
That Henry's heart and taste approve;
For oh how sweet, in tones of praise,
Sounds the dear voice of him I love.

The praises I from others hear,
Some joy may to my pride impart;
But Henry's wake the rapturous tear,
For his applauses touch the heart.

From busy crowds o'erjoy'd I fly,
With him in lonely shades to rove;
For in the gayest scenes I sigh,
To hear the voice of him I love.

I woo the drama's magic powers,
Seek music's ever crowded shrine,
In learning pass the studious hours,
Or try the muse's wreath to twine.

Yet still I feel a joy more dear,
Though I these pure delights approve,
When, in retirement's scenes, I hear
The soothing voice of him I love.

Original Miscellany.

LETTER OF K. Z. D.

IN REPLY TO THE ADVERTISEMENT OF J. Z. D.

Which appeared in the Gazette of Tuesday, from the Boston Centinel.

RESPECTED SIR,

Your communication, addressed to the editor of the Boston Centinel, has at length reached me.

Your personification of yourself—the enumeration of your acquisitions—the protestations of your fidelity—and, lastly, your fondness for domestic life—render you extremely valuable, and a prize much greater than ten thousand blanks. You, though the hero of your own description, have forgotten, in the paroxysm of your anxiety for a wife, to represent the beauty of your face, or the stateliness of your form. Whether this omission has been through stratagem, or neglect, is doubtful. Beauty, though of little avail with those of my sex who, for want of it, depreciate it in others, is with me a characteristic of great importance; and if you do not possess a little, I think the treaty between us is at an end. You may be extremely homely, nay, frightful; or your may be a monster! sounds truly distressing...alas! killing to a delicate ear and refined understanding. You will, therefore, on the receipt of this, hasten to a limner, and have your likeness taken, for fear any misrepresentation may take place. I beg you will, after the drawing, have its good qualities, in point of similitude, examined by two or three impartial female friends, who are capable of judging, from their own deformed and ugly appearance. Their certificates, acknowledging the similitude of the effigy, must accompany it, which you will transmit to me through the same channel wherein flowed your other important acquisition. My reasons for this step are to give the public, whom I know to be impartial, an opportunity also of judging. When these conditions shall have been complied with, I know of nothing that will impede our marriage: but as there will be an intervening time, I shall with proper dispatch communicate whatever thoughts may occur. I rest satisfied that, when united, we will do honor to Hymen's bands and render each other more than temporary happiness. Believing that this negociation will terminate to our mutual satisfaction, I take the liberty of adopting your name, and subscribe myself your affectionate wife,

K. Z. D.

N. B. I observe that you possess, among other good qualities, that inestimable one, economy, which will in time add to our wealth. Being myself an advocate for frugality, I cannot but commend it in others, and have taken the hint to save the postage, by giving this an insertion in a paper distinguished for its liberality.

Too much sensibility, too much tenderness, proves the bitterest curse instead of the most choicest blessing: vexation and disappointment are its certain consequences.

ALEXANDRIA:
THURSDAY, DECEMBER 18, 1817.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT AT WASHINGTON.

Wednesday, December 17, 1817.

Yesterday, in the House of Representatives, Mr. Herbert presented a bill for incorporating an insurance company in Alexandria, which was committed for Friday.

On motion of Mr. Lowndes, a report on public expenditures made on the —— day of March last, was referred to the committee on so much of the President's Message as relates to the war expenditure.

A resolution to consider of the expediency of altering the flag of the U. States, passed the House.

Mr. Bassett presented a resolution, that the compensation of Members of Congress should, until further order to the contrary, be the same as it was in 1818. The House refused to take it into consideration.

The House, in a Committee, then resumed the consideration of the Commutation Bill—when a long, desultory and very interesting discussion ensued, in which the topics of the day before were introduced anew. On the part of those who were averse to the measure, it was, as before, contended, that the bill would never answer the purposes for which it was designed; that it was vain to hope that it could be so constructed as to prevent speculators from being the only gainers by it—That the purchasers would easily evade every provision—That it would throw open the doors of the Treasury to a set of sharpers, and enable them at once to drain our finances and take advantage of the poor soldiers.—That so far from being beneficial it would be injurious to the soldiers, who, if left to go to market with their patents in their own hands, would be now able to get at least as much as this bill offered them—That after all, the House was legislating to little good effect, because for improvident men, who would divest themselves of the whole property without its doing any good.—That if they were improvident with respect to the lands—which, by the by, was the ground of the bill, they would be much more so with the money when they received it.—That the enormous bounty they had received for entering the service, had soon vanished, without doing them any good.—That out of their pay, which was higher than that of any soldiers in the world, they had not saved a shilling; and that it was free to conclude that if this bill passed, and the large sums it aimed at appropriating for the soldiers, were poured out of the treasury into their possession, it would still do them no substantial good.—That it appeared by the report of the executive, that the sum to be advanced on this project would not be defrayed by the sale of the lands in less than twelve years.—That it would, after all, place the government in the situation of speculators, and that it was not very consistent with the dignity of the union to be purchasing back its own bounty from their own poor soldiers, and then selling it with a view to profit. Nor was this all:—It was doubted whether there was any thing due to the soldiers, on the score of justice, as had been insisted upon.—That very many of them had received extravagant bounty in money, and great pay, and bounty in land also, and had done little for it.—That if the House were particularly anxious to do an act of beneficence, the officers, who received no bounty, and spent much of their own property in their equipments, were the proper objects on whom to exercise it.—And, lastly, that gentlemen were formerly earnest to have those soldiers planted on the lands on our frontier, as a defence against the enemies of the country, who were now equally earnest to give them money for those lands.

On the other hand it was insisted that government could not be a loser by the bill, nor the speculators be gainers by it, and that the soldier would be benefited by it, not only without injury, but even with benefit to the finances—and, finally, it was recommended to Mr. Holmes to withdraw the motion that had yesterday been made to strike out the first section. Among those who exerted themselves in defence of the measure, Mr. Clay stood foremost—not only encountering the arguments employed against it with great earnestness, but proposing a new bill, the heads of which he read, to be substituted for the other, in case the motion before the house succeeded—At least, Mr. Sergeant announcing his intention to move for the substitution of pensions for life, instead of cash in hand by way of commutation, the committee rose, reported progress and obtained leave to sit again, and the house adjourned to to-morrow.

New-York, December 15.

LATEST FROM FRANCE.

The ship Amiable Matilda, Myers, arrived at this port on Saturday in 45 days from Bordeaux. The letters from that place of the 19th of October quote Flour at 64 to 66 francs with a bounty of five francs; sugar and coffee in demand and rising; cotton, slack. The vintage had been very bad.

The French government has directed a rigorous quarantine of vessels coming from infected places. Those entering the ports of France from ports of the U. States south of the Chesapeake, are to perform a quarantine of thirty days.—Vessels from the north of the Chesapeake are to report themselves on arrival, and the prefects will decide how long they shall remain at quarantine.

The Editors of the Mercantile Advertiser have received by this arrival Paris papers to the 18th Oct. The following is the only article of interest they contain.

Paris, October 17.

A private letter from Portugal, mentions that General O'Donnel, having united a considerable corps in Andalusia, in Spain, was expected to embark with it about the end of the present month. A new order has changed completely the disposition of these forces, and they have been directed towards the frontier of Estremadura, without any known object for such a destination.

On the other side the Portuguese have sent troops to Elvas, and to the environs of that strong place. Marshal Beresford, commander in chief of the Portuguese, has sent an aid de camp to Madrid, to demand an explanation of this movement. Conjecture is, as usual, very busy in endeavoring to account for these movements.

Extract of a letter, dated Bordeaux, October 19.

"Vintage is almost over in all quarters: the general opinion is, that the wines will be tolerably good, but we regret to say that the quantity will be very small—not more than one fourth of a good ordinary crop. This circumstance will greatly enhance the prices of old wines, which are becoming very scarce. No clarets to be had worth shipping under 4,000 francs per ton. White wines in proportion—cargo wines 750 to 800.—Brandies, single proof, 680 to 700. They will not lower this year for the reasons above mentioned."

From the Washington National Register.

FROM NEW-ORLEANS.

A respectable friend in New-Orleans, in a letter to the editor under date of the 25th ult. says, our senator in Congress, Mr. Claiborne, late governor of this state, is dangerously sick; he has been ill at his farm for four weeks, and yesterday he was brought to this city. His life is dispaired of.

In the event of the death of Mr. Claiborne, Louisiana will not be represented in the senate of the United States the ensuing session, except the vacancies be immediately supplied. Mr. Fromentin is, we believe, now in France, from whence it is not probable he will return in time to take his seat.

In another paragraph our friend adds, from Dubourg's price current, I extract a few of the heavy articles brought into our market from October 1816, to September 1817:

23,000 hogsheads of tobacco
190,000 barrels of flour
65,000 bales of cotton
250,000 gallons of whiskey.

There has been no method adopted to ascertain the quantity of sugar, molasses and rice raised in this country.

The prospects of cotton are much as they were last year, probably 10,000 bales more than last crop; sugar crops look extremely well, but the season has been so wet that probably not so much sugar will be made as last year.

INTERESTING TO NAVIGATORS.

Observations on the magnetic fluid, by Captain Obrien Drury, of the royal navy.

From the transactions of the Royal Irish Academy.

The magnetic fluid and its phenomena, are no less singular than obscure, and have too long engaged the attention of philosophers, for me to offer any hypothesis on the subject. I mean only to speak of a matter of fact, which I am led to believe may be serviceable to navigation, should the variation of the compass ever be made use of as a method of ascertaining the longitude.

It is necessary to enter into a detail of experiments to prove the existence of the magnetic fluid, which circulates continually around and through a magnet, and it is fully demonstrated by the arrangement of iron filing thrown on glass placed over a magnet.

Experience shews us that a needle of a compass, as well as other magnets, whether artificial or real, perpetually loses something of its magnetic power, which often produces a difference exceeding a point; and I am well convinced that the great errors in ship-reckoning proceeds more frequently from the incorrectness of the compass than from any other cause.

Steel cannot be too highly tempered for the needle of a sea compass; as the more it is hardened the more permanent is the magnetism, and consequently the polarity of the needle. I recommend to have the needle cased with thin polished soft iron, else to have it armed at the poles with a bit of soft iron.

I have found, from many experiments, that the cased needle preserved its magnetism in a much more perfect degree than the needle not cased; and I have sometimes thought that the magnetic power of the cased needle had increased, and the magnetic power of the uncased and unarmed needle always loses its polarity.

Some time ago, I placed a case needle, an unarmed needle, and one without either case or armor, in a room for three months, having at that time precisely the same direction, and nearly the same degree of force. At the expiration of three months, I found that the cased needle, and the unarmed needle, had not in the least changed their direction, but the other had changed two degrees, and had lost very considerably of its magnetic power; if there were any changes in the other needles, it was too inconsiderable to be perceived.

These observations appear to me to be new, and may tend to great improvement in our sea compass. They are submitted to the consideration of philosophers.

INDIAN REVENGE.

In the year 1775, the Spaniards resolved on equipping the Asia, of 66 guns, which had been left at Monte Viedo three years before. They therefore impressed many of the inhabitants of Buenos Ayres, English prisoners and Portuguese smugglers, and took also some Indians of the country; among these last, was a chief named Orellana, and ten of his followers. The Spaniards treated the English prisoners and the Indians with great barbarity, but more particularly the Indians. Orellana meditated a severe revenge for these inhumanities, and having sounded the English distantly, and not finding them so precipitate and vindictive as he expected, he resolved to trust alone to the resolution of his ten faithful followers; and having agreed with them on the measures necessary to be taken, they first furnished themselves with dutch knives, sharp at the point, which being common in the ship, they easily procured. Besides this, they employed their leisure time in secretly cutting out throngs from raw hides, and in fixing to each end of these throngs the double headed shot of the small quarter deck guns: this when swung around their heads according to the practice of their country, was a most mischievous weapon. Orellana himself having been beaten with great violence under a plea of disobedience, was become more eager and impatient; and within a day or two after this accident, he and his followers opened their desperate resolves in the ensuing manner: It was about nine in the evening when many of the principal officers were upon the quarter deck; the waste of the ship filled with live cattle, and the forecastle was manned with its customary watch, that, under cover of night, having prepared their weapons, and thrown off the cumberous part of their dress, having come to the quarter deck, the boatswain ordered them to be gone. Orellana spoke to his people in their native tongue, when four of them drew off, two towards each gangway, of which taking possession, Orellana placed his hands hollow to his mouth, and bellowed out the war cry used by those people. This hideous yell was the signal for beginning the massacre: for on this they all at once drew their knives, and brandished their double headed shot. The six, with their Chief, killed more than twenty on the quarter deck, disabling as many more—those who attempted to escape along the gangways towards the forecastle, were stabbed by the four Indians placed there, or forced into the waste among the cattle, some voluntarily concealing themselves there.—Some escaped up the main shrouds, fore shrouds and bowsprit—all was confusion, and these eleven Indians possessed themselves of the quarter deck of the ship, and held peaceable possession for some time, the officers being incapable of forming any project for suppressing the insurrection. It is true the yells of the Indians, the groans of the wounded, and the confused clamour of the crew, &c. filled them with imaginary terrors; but when they learned that the English, whom they principally suspected, were all safe below, and had not intermeddled in the mutiny, they procured ammunition, loaded their pistols, set open the cabin door and fired among the Indians. They had the good luck to shoot Orellana dead, on which his faithful companions, abandoning all thoughts of further resistance, instantly leaped into the sea, where they every man perished!!!

SALEM IN NORTH CAROLINA.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman in Salem, N. Carolina, to his friend in Boston, dated Sept. 10.

"From Lexington we travelled through an interesting country, but thinly settled, to the Moravian town of Salem. We were agreeably surprised at finding in the midst of this region of forest, a place combining all the comforts and conveniences of rural life, with the air and embellishments of a sea port. The town is built of brick, principally on one street of half a mile in length, paved and planted with trees on either side.

"Here is a large academy for the education of females, under the direction of the pastor and 12 matrons, where they are taught reading, writing and mathematics, the use of the globes, needle work of all descriptions, music and drawing. They attend prayers in the church at separate hours in the day, where they walk in procession with their pastor and matrons at their head, and are all dressed in the style peculiar to the Moravians, of plain robes and quaker caps, and have quite a novel and pleasing appearance. People send their daughters here from all parts of the Southern states. The price of Board and Tuition is very moderate, and great attention is paid to the morals of the pupils. We had an introduction to the pastor, who is a reverend old gentleman, affable and pleasing in his manners, who very politely shewed us through all the rooms of the academy, which are very extensive, and likewise the church, which is a spacious and elegant edifice, ornamented with a clock and a large organ, said to be one of the best in the United States. The church and the academy, which consists of four large brick buildings, four stories in height, are situated on a square in the centre of the town, planted with trees, and intersected by fine gravel walks. Here is a brother and sister house, where all the single of both sexes eat and sleep: these are extensive buildings, and four stories in height.

"This town is under the government of a board of directors, of which their pastor is president, secretary and treasurer, and a common father to the whole. The gains of each individual are thrown into the general treasury, without its being known who is the greatest contributer. Here is one inn, one shop of goods, and one mechanical establishment of each kind—and none others are allowed. They are curious in the manufacture of a fine description of potter's ware, saddlery, gloves, hosiery, &c. Mrs. P. bespoke a pair of gloves during our tarry here, which were executed in a style of workmanship which is rarely equalled in Europe. It was with reluctance we left this happy village, where the thoughts and affections of its inhabitants seem to be fixed upon another and a better world.

"In the bosom of retirement, secure from the tempests which agitate the world, enjoying a competency, which their patient industry provides, and economy secures, they float serenely along the troubled stream of life, to the haven of eternal rest." Palladium

Public Sale.

IN pursuance of the authority vested in us by a deed of trust, bearing date 3d day of Aug. 1814, from James Deneale, of Prince William county, for the benefit of the Mechanics' Bank of Alexandria, and at the request of the president and directors of the said bank, we shall, for the purpose of raising the sum of eight thousand seven hundred dollars, with interest thereon from the 20th day of Dec. in the year 1816, and the expences of the sale, sell at public sale, for ready money to the highest bidder, at the court house in Dumfries, on the first Monday in Jan. next, the following property in the county of Prince William: a water Grist Mill, on Quantico creek, and ten acres of land adjoining thereto, near the town of Dumfries, known by the name of Deneale's Mill, and all implements and appurtenances thereto belonging. Also, one other piece of land and water grist mill adjoining the above on Quantico creek—Also, one and one half acre of land formerly known by the name of the Saw Mill Tract and to include the Saw Mill and improvements.

Those who are disposed to purchase may view the property before the day of sale.

The subscribers selling as trustees will convey no other right than that which they hold as trustees, not meaning to make themselves personally responsible for the title. ROBT. YOUNG,

Trustee's Sale.

UNDER the authority, and by virtue of a decree of the honorable the High Court of Chancery of the State of Maryland, the subscriber will offer at public sale, on the premises, on Saturday the 20th day of December, inst. at 12 M. if fair, if not, the next fair lawful day, at the same hour, all the Land of the late Richard Henderson, deceased, situate in Prince George's County, Md. and adjoining or near the town of Bladensburg, containing between 6 and 700 acres, of which a survey and plat will be made previous to the sale, and then exhibited.

These lands are beautifully situated, and in an excellent neighborhood; one third part, or nearly so, is in wood, and about 50 acres of bottom or meadow, which, with some improvement, is capable of producing large crops of timothy, a certain and never failing market for which is found in the City of Washington, about 4 miles distant. This property, lying below Bladensburg, on the Eastern Branch, has the advantage of water conveyance for its produce to the City, Georgetown or Alexandria at a small expence.

Intending purchasers it is supposed, will, by themselves or agents, examine the Lands and determine for themselves as to the quality and local advantages thereof, and therefore a more particular description is deemed unnecessary. Mr. Wilson, residing on the premises, will shew them.

The conditions of sale are, that the purchaser shall give bond with security to the Trustee, to be approved by him, for paying one 3d of the purchase money with interest within 12 months, one other 3d with interest within 18 months, and the residue with interest within 2 years from the day of sale—and upon the sale being ratified by the Chancellor, and on receipt of the purchase money, a conveyance shall be made in terms of the said decree. Public Sale.

UNDER the authority of a deed of trust from John Throop, and Rebecca his wife, in order to secure Hugh Carolin against the effect of his endorsements for the said John Throop, the subscriber will offer at public sale, for cash, on Friday the 2d day of January next, at 12 o'clock, upon the premises, all the right, title and interest of the said John Throop in the undermentioned property, or so much thereof as may be necessary to save harmless the said H. Carolin, viz:

A Lot of Ground, on the south side of King-street, beginning 54 feet eastward of Payne-street, and fronting on King-street 27 feet.

Also, one other Piece of Ground, beginning 176 feet 7 inches from the intersection of Prince and Payne streets, and running southwardly with Payne-street 60 feet.

And another Piece of Ground, beginning at an alley laid off by J. V. Thomas, at its intersection with Alfred-street, and binding north on said street 37 feet 6 inches.

The evidences of title and a more minute description may be seen upon application to the subscriber.

COLIN AULD, Trustee.

Public Sale.

ON the 10th January next, if fair, if not, the next fair day, will be offered at public auction, on the premises, a certain tract or parcel of LAND, situate in the county of Loudoun, near the Gum Spring, and at the intersection of the Little River Turnpike and Centreville Road, near the 26 mile stone, containing 732 acres. And, on the 5th January next, at Mr. Kankey's tavern, in the town of Dumfries, a parcel of LAND, situate in the county of Stafford, within 8 miles of Dumfries, near Chappawamsic meeting house, and adjoining the lands of Major Tolson and others, containing about 250 acres.

Those lands are two third parts of the lands formerly belonging to Robt. Lyle, sen. deceased, in those counties, and divided by commissioners appointed under the authority of court.

It is presumed and wished that all who are inclined to become purchasers, will examine the lands; and, therefore, it becomes unnecessary to be more particular. They will be divided into such portions as may be desired; and the terms of payment will be one third part in hand, and the remainder by equal instalments in one and two years, secured by bond, and bearing interest from the day of sale, with approved security.

Land for Sale.

IF early application is made, I will dispose of 400 acres of the CEDAR GROVE tract of land. There is surplus timber and fire wood enough on the part I purpose selling to pay, with judicious management, more than half the purchase money, at the price I ask. The situation is healthy, and the land fertile. Contiguity to market is also among its advantages; it being within less than a mile of Mr. Jonathan Janney's mill, where the Alexandria price may be had for grain. Persons wishing to purchase will apply to the subscriber, residing at Cedar Grove, ten miles below Alexandria, and one below Janney's mill.

RAN AWAY, on Saturday evening, the 11th inst. my mulatto man, named NED, commonly called NED M'RAE alias SHREWING. He is about 23 or 24 years of age, 5 feet 8 or 9 inches high, and was raised in Manchester. Ned is well made, high forehead and large flat nose: had on when he went away a grey coat and pantaloons, but as he was well provided with cloathing of various kinds, it is probable he may have changed his dress. It is believed he went off with his wife, who it appears left Richmond at the same time: she is very black, and, I believe, somewhat pitted with the small pox, talks a great deal, of short stature, and rather thick made. Ned is very artful, and may probably attempt to pass for a free man; he has a down look when spoken to. The above reward will be given if taken out of Richmond or Manchester, and twenty-five dollars if taken in either place, and all reasonable expenses paid for delivering him to the subscriber. James Kennedy & Son,

BOOKSELLERS,

KING-STREET, ALEXANDRIA,

RESPECTFULLY inform the public that they have just received from

Lee's Medicine Store,

No. 46, Maiden lane, New-York, a fresh supply of the following valuable MEDICINES:

Hamilton's Worm-destroying Lozenges,

Which have within sixteen years past cured an immense number of persons of both sexes of every age and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from WORMS, and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of as operating with violence; on the contrary a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent & is so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body; but will without pain or griping cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.

Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known.

Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds viz.—The Teres or large round worm; the Ascarides or small maw-worm; the Cucurbitine or short flat white worm; and lastly, the Tænia or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious; purging with slimy and fœtid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; pains in the head and thighs and lowness of spirits; slow fever with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent "the vomiting and purging of children"—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

The Restorative Powder for the Teeth and Gums.

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended

HAHN's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of person can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficatious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Hamilton's Elixir,

A sovereign remedy for colds, obstinate coughs, asthmas, sore throats, catarrhs, and approaching consumptions.—To parents who have children afflicted with the HOOPING COUGH, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorders to which children are liable. The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

Hamilton's Grand Restorative,

Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of

Nervous Disorders	Violent cramps in the stomach and back
Consumptions	Indigestion
Lowness of spirits	Melancholy
Loss of appetite	Gout in the stomach
Impurity of blood	Pains in the limbs
Hysteric affection	Relaxations, etc.
Inward weaknesses and debility

Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mustard.

A safe and effectual remedy for acute and chronic rheumatism, gout, rheumatic gout, palsy, lumbago, numbness, white swellings, chilblains, sprains, bruises, pain in the face and neck, etc. etc.

Lee's Ointment for the Itch.

Warranted an infallible remedy at one application, may be used with perfect safety by pregnant women, or on infants a week old, not containing a particle of mercury or any dangerous ingredient whatever, and not accompanied with that tormenting smart which attends the application of other remedies.

Hahn's true & genuine German Corn Plaister.

An infallible remedy for corns, speedily removing them root and branch, without giving any pain.

The Genuine Persian Lotion,

So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe, is an invaluable cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free from corrosive and repellent minerals, the basis of other lotions, and of unparalleled efficacy in removing blemishes of the face and skin, freckles, pimples, inflamatory redness, scurfs, tetters, ringworms, sunburns, prickly heat, &c.

Hahn's genuine Eye Water,

A sovereign remedy for all diseases of the eyes, whether the effect of natural weakness or of accident.

Tooth Ache Drops.

The only remedy yet discovered which gives immediate and lasting relief in the most severe instances.

Lee's Infallible Ague and Fever Drops

For the cure of agues, remittent and intermittent fevers.

☞ At the place of sale pamphlets may be had gratis, describing cures performed by the above medicines; the number, importance and respectability of which, fully justify every article of this advertisement.
